

Live in Your Apps

Employees crave connection—with their teams, with each other. And there are literally thousands of apps trying to help them collaborate. The problem is, if those apps aren't unified through a single platform, those connections never happen—and your organization never reaches its potential.

Disconnected apps, disconnected work.
Wasted time at work costs billions of dollars a year.

69% of workers waste up to 60 minutes a day navigating between apps

That's up to 32 days per year

56% find searching for information in different apps disruptive

Up to $500K

Amount of annual revenue believed to be lost because of poor integrations and lack of resources, according to 57% of respondents.*

DISCONNECTED APPS POSE SERIOUS CHALLENGES

THE THREE DANGERS OF APP OVERLOAD

1

LOSS OF PRODUCTIVITY

Different apps to call, message, meet

Can't automatically log calls

No call history for IT

2

POOR CUSTOMER ENGAGEMENT

Lack of integration with business apps leads to increased customer wait time

Can't retain sensitive data on employees, customers

No analytics during or after calls to drive communication insights

3

POOR ROI

Onboarding new apps is costly
